Volume 55

Dear Friends,

Let me invite you to attend a very special concert in the Sanctuary on Sunday, August 18, 4PM, by the St Luke Chamber Players. The Chamber Players is a new part of the Music Ministry that seeks to present works of true beauty from the classical music chamber music genre, which runs from the 1600s to modern times. In this way, we are inviting members of the church and the community into our sacred space to experience classical music in an intimate and inviting setting.

This Sunday's concert, which requires no tickets, will feature an octet (8 players) by Beethoven, and a piece from the 1880's for 11 instruments by a composer named Arthur Bird.

Beethoven's octet is particularly interesting as it dates from his youth, when he was a student of Haydn. We are also including the missing last movement that Beethoven had written then removed from the work. This is Beethoven as we are not often privileged to hear; the classical composer on par with Haydn and Mozart, before he becomes the champion of 19th century romanticism.

We will round out the concert with a unique piece by a little known but delightful composer, Arthur Bird. In his Suite in D for 10 winds plus string bass, he creates a lovely example of classical period form with 19th century lush harmonies and beautiful melodies.

This concert is free, and a freewill offering will be taken which will go directly into the St Luke Music Fund, to support further programs of this kind.

There will be a reception following the concert in Stockwell Hall so you may greet the musicians and talk with them about the experience of performing these musical treasures and you can tell them about your experience upon hearing them.

Peace,
Marc
